Directive: Modified Units

Issue Date:	October 16, 2014	Directive No.:	2014-08
Revision Date:	N/A	Revision No.:	N/A

BACKGROUND

In 2005 the United Counties of Leeds and Grenville completed a Facility Accessibility Review of their housing sites with the intent of responding to the needs of tenants, while respecting the dignity of persons with disabilities, maximizing their integration, and promoting full participation in society. Further the Social Housing Accessibility Needs Report prepared in May 2012 examined the changing demographics of Leeds and Grenville and recognized that the rate of the aging population in Leeds and Grenville is growing faster than the aging population rate for the entire population of Ontario. The rate of disability in Leeds and Grenville is also increasing at a faster rate. Therefore it is critical to improve access to, and make more efficient use of the modified and partially modified units available in the social housing portfolio of Leeds and Grenville.

The Modified Units policy has been introduced to improve access to and make efficient use of modified and partially modified units available in the portfolio of social housing providers in Leeds and Grenville. The intent is to fill vacancies of modified units with persons requiring the specific modifications to accommodate their disability.

Provincial non-profit and co-operative housing administrators shall adhere to the Modified Units policy Federal non-profit providers are strongly encouraged to adopt this policy or a similar policy, if one is not already in place, to improve access for applicants and tenants with disabilities and make more efficient use of the modified and partially modified units that are available.

The policy and Verification of Disability or Medical Condition are enclosed for reference. These documents can be made available in electronic format upon request.

Background:

The Housing Services Act, 2011 prescribes rules for special needs eligibility and household selection to fill vacant units that have accessibility modifications. The United Counties of Leeds and Grenville has fully and partially modified apartment units, and single family homes. In May 2012, a Social Housing Accessibility Needs report was written. Research examined the changing demographics of Leeds and Grenville and the report indicates an aging population giving rise to an increased rate of disability. With an aging population in Leeds and Grenville growing at a faster rate than the aging population in all of Ontario, the rate of disability in Leeds Grenville is also increasing. Therefore, it is critical to effectively utilize the modified and partially modified units available in the social housing portfolio of Leeds Grenville.

Policy Statement:

This policy is intended to ensure that applicants and tenants with disabilities have fair and equitable access to modified and partially modified units within Leeds Grenville. Vacant modified units will be offered to eligible applicant households with a verified disability or medical condition requiring the modifications of the vacant unit. Information about the application process for rent-geared-to-income and affordable housing and buildings/locations that include modified units in Leeds Grenville is available on the Counties website and in the Social Housing in Leeds and Grenville brochure.

Definitions:

Accessible unit means barrier-free access to the unit from outside of the building/unit.

Modified unit means a unit that has been modified so as to be accessible to an individual with a physical disability or so as to allow an individual with a physical disability to live independently. Specific modifications in a unit must be identified so that applicants requesting a modified unit can be matched to a unit that meets their specified need(s). A modified unit will include one or more of the following features: strobe lights, interior of unit is accessible to a person confined to a wheel-chair (e.g. wider doorways), lowered counters, lowered light switches, front stove controls, roll-under sinks, or roll-in shower.

Special Needs Housing means housing intended for use by a household with one or more members who require accessibility modifications or provincially funded services in order to live independently in the community.

Criteria:

- 1. Applicants or tenants requesting a modified unit must submit a completed Application for Subsidized Housing or Request for Internal Transfer and identify health factors that may determine the size and type of unit the household is eligible for. A Verification of Disability or Medical Condition (Appendix A) validating the member's disability and identifying required modifications must be completed by a regulated health practitioner and submitted in support of the application. Use of a scooter, walker or wheelchair does not automatically qualify a household for a modified unit. At least one member of the household must be restricted to a wheelchair for mobility. In other words, the member is unable to move independently for any reasonable distance without the aid of a wheelchair.
- 2. In-situ tenants requesting a transfer to a modified unit must meet the eligibility criteria of the housing provider's internal transfer policy. The housing provider may determine whether it is more efficient to modify the unit currently occupied by the tenant, or to transfer the household to an existing modified unit.
- 3. Applicants or tenants will be placed on the waiting list/internal transfer list for the size and type of unit for which they are eligible, based on the preferred locations selected on the Building Selection form included with the Application for Subsidized Housing or submitted with the Request for Internal Transfer.
- 4. If there is no waiting list for a vacant modified unit, or the waiting list for a modified unit for that building/location has been exhausted, the unit will next be offered to applicants requiring the same size and type of modified unit on other waiting lists. Refusal of offer by an applicant that did not select the building/location as a preferred location will not count as a refusal in Coordinated Access.
- 5. If no applicants waiting for accommodations accept the vacant unit, contact may be made with agencies that serve disabled clients who may require the size and type of modified unit that is currently vacant. These clients must submit a completed Application for Subsidized Housing, a Verification of Disability or Medical Condition, and be determined eligible for rent-geared-to-income assistance and a modified unit.
- 6. If an offer is not accepted by an eligible household requiring a modified unit and the unit is vacant for three months or more, the unit may be offered to applicants not requiring the - modifications. Refusals by applicants who do not require the modifications shall not be counted as a refusal in Coordinated Access.

- 7. During the annual (periodic) review process, it shall be verified that the household still requires the modified unit.
